

"MORE MILK NEEDED FOR MORE CHILDREN IN MANY COUNTRIES!!"

Halloween's New Look

What does Halloween mean to you? Is it a time to carve jack-o-lanterns, drink cider, get dressed up, go out and soap the neighbors' windows, take the Smiths' porch chairs and dump them into Joneses' back yard? Yes, it's the time of year for trick or treat! Ask your folks if they remember how many kids came to your house last year. Usually by the end of the evening your family's supply of apples, candy, cookies, and pretzels is gone. Most of the adults enter into the spirit of the season, remembering the fun they had dressing up and going out when they were your age.

For the last two Halloween seasons the JUNIOR-HI KIT has been sponsoring the new look to the trick or treat system. Instead of going out to collect things for themselves, young people's groups organize to go out and collect articles for overseas relief. The first year we collected shoes, and last year soap, and both were distributed through Church World Service. This year we are combining our effort with that of the United Nations International Children's Emergency Fund. Our specific interest is in sending milk abroad to children who, without United Nations aid, would not have any. This is a very important project when we stop to realize how much milk means to the physical welfare of babies and children.

How to Give a Quart of Milk

Of course, we can't just go to our phones, dial our dairies, and tell them to deliver five quarts of milk to certain children in Greece, or Poland, or the Near East, or wherever. It doesn't work that way. What then? No, we don't send condensed milk in cans, either. That would be too large, bulky, heavy, and expensive to send. The answer is powdered milk, sent through the United Nations Children's Fund. Powdered milk is comparatively light in weight. It is the same as whole milk with the fat and water removed. When this powdered milk reaches its destination, the water is restored, making skim milk. This is for children. Whole milk is reserved for babies.

Try It for Taste

You would probably not find this powdered milk very tasty to drink, because you are used to whole milk. But to children who in many cases have never tasted whole milk it is a real treat, and to them it is a question of no milk or milk from the Children's Fund.

If possible, get some powdered milk at your grocery store and make some up so that everyone can have a taste. Then try to imagine one glass of that
