Cindy Corell

Serving Christ in Haiti

As a facilitator for the Joining Hands program, Cindy will connect agricultural experts in Haiti with Haitian farmers to help farmers do what they do best—grow food for others. As the country continues to recover from the 2010 earthquake, Haitians are seeking to produce more food locally and rely less on imports. Cindy goes to Haiti sensing God's call to empower the Haitian people. "Being a farmer's daughter, I know the joy a farmer knows when his or her work results in foods to be enjoyed by many," Cindy says. "If I can play a role in making more Haitian families find that joy, I will share in it."
