

ENTER FULL NAME AND PROJECT TITLE

Presbyterian Historical Society Research Fellowship Narrative Application

Please add your full name and the title of your project to the top left header of the document so that it appears on every page. Include page numbers in the bottom footer of the document. Respond to the following three questions. Do not include an executive summary, a table of contents, or any other supporting documents or attachments.

- 1. Compose a comprehensive description of your proposed project. Your narrative should be succinct, well organized, and free of technical terms and jargon so that peer reviewers can understand the proposed project. Limit this response to 3 pages, if double-spaced, or 1.5 pages, if single-spaced. Include the following information:
 - a. Explain the central ideas, arguments, or questions of your project, stating the project's thesis or claim(s).
 - b. Describe the intellectual significance of the proposed project, including its value to scholars, general audiences, or both.
 - c. Describe your project's relationship to previous and current scholarship in the field. How does it complement, challenge, or expand on related scholarship?

- 2. Explain how your project relates to Presbyterian history and specific collections held at the society. List the specific holdings at the Presbyterian Historical Society that you intend to use during your fellowship. You must include the exact title and call number for all archival collections. For monographs, it is not necessary to list all titles and call numbers, but please indicate the approximate number and type of publications you intend to use. *Limit this response to 1 page.

- 3. List the dates of your proposed research schedule and provide a proposed budget of expenses for your fellowship. If you are affiliated with an institution, please indicate if research funding is available to you. *Limit this response to 1 page.
